

A STUDY ON LIFE STYLES OF FAMILIES WITH A PATIENT ON TERMINAL STAGE IN THEIR HOUSE

Ch. YAMAMOTO Kazue (Tohoku Bunka Gakuen University)

Mem. KAMEYA Emiko (Tohoku University)

{SYNOPSIS}

This Study is the report of House Planning and families Life Style with a patient on the terminal stage. Some medical staffs are making effort to be able to care terminal patients in their house in the researching target area. Terminal patients depend on medical care. They need to visit doctors and nurse , to look after by their family always. So the living room is selected by the recuperate space . Because the living room already had functions of communication with family and inviting guests. Because short term of recuperating. To be on recuperate space in the living room, that place on the center of the house and home, can be realized. And on apartment house many neighborhood invite and cheer their up a patient. Because neighborhood know their situation. After the owner of a rented house permission, to look after terminal patient start in the apartment house.